Theory—Not Practice
What Cave Men Saw
A New Shakespeare
Chinaman Too Politic

By Arthur Brisbane

Corbett, 112, Star Co.

A man, once Treasurer of the United States, falls as a banker, his last penny is gone. His partner, a middle-aged clerk, shares his grief.

You may wonder that a man knowing so little about finance should be chosen Treasurer of the United States. However, a man may be excellent in theory, worthless in practice. The man that invented the sewing machine couldn't sew. The inventor of the spinning jenny was no weaver or spinner. Abraham Lincoln won the Civil War against Lee, one of the greatest generals in history, yet Lincoln was no soldier.

A few Wall Street brokers failed yesterday. That was bound to happen after a long, dreary pull. It doesn't mean much. Far more interesting are some new drawings on stone, discovered by Dr. Causton of Paris.

They represent accurately that wonderful group of men, the Pleiades, that seem so close together and are billions of miles apart.

What puzzled prehistoric artists is that cave men saw and accurately drew ten stars in the Pleiades, whereas the naked eye sees but seven—unless you go to the top of a mountain where the air is very clear.

Did cave men climb to the mountain tops to study the stars? Was the atmosphere clearer twenty thousand years ago than at present? Did those ancient astronomers of ours have sight better than our own, comparable to that of the eagle? Those are questions that agitate the scientists.

Study the Pleiades; they are worth it. The astronomer Flammarion in Paris, a few years ago, told this writer that the telescope, instead of seeing only ten stars in the Pleiades, sees at present about forty thousand stars there, and there are more. He added, as well he might, "We are only on the threshold of knowledge."

A portrait of Shakespeare, believed to have been painted in his lifetime, has been identified in London. Taken thirty-three years ago from a heap of rubbish in a cellar, it had been lying behind a piano. Many would give a great deal for that portrait, it is said.

After Shakespeare died his wife or a daughter, that could neither read nor write, disposed of all his papers and letters, including possibly unpublished plays, as "old waste paper." What would that "junk" be worth?

Mr. Chett, from China, prosecuting in Seattle, Wash., as a policeman and bowed courteously to him. Arrived at the police station, Mr. Chett bowed in rapid succession to every policeman, from the presiding genius down.

The learned policeman immediately by him to the insanity board. Through an interpreter Mr. Chett explained that he was only being polite and bowing to grandeur. Now he is free again and will learn to stare at uniforms, without bowing, in the American way.

Certain mineral salts in vegetables and meat are necessary to life. So important are they that if you eat food, plenty of it, without such salts, you would die sooner than if you ate nothing at all and took only pure water.

Dr. Copeland, health official of New York city, gives this good advice:

"Cook potatoes with their 'jackets' on, to preserve the valuable mineral salt."

Many in Ireland and on American farms have done that, always, and have eaten the skins as well as the inside of the potatoes.

About three-quarters of Americans eat every 20 per cent. of the potatoes with the skin—being in such a hurry—then bolt out the mineral salts and get nothing but starch.

A pendulum swings one way, then the other. It happens everywhere with everything. First it goes up, then down. With union labor just now the pendulum is swinging against labor. Five hundred thousand men of the Amalgamated Engineering Union are packed out to England. Employers say they want to manage their own business. One city after another in the United States goes practically on the open shop basis.

A new idea or new leaders are needed.

STAR LINEUP AFTER SHOOTING GIRL

Plot to Make Sims an Admiral

SCHEME OF FRIENDS IS EXPOSED

Letters Reveal Propaganda to Get Highest Rank for Navy Man Twice Reprimanded

The Boston American prints today an interesting account of an effort being made by the friends of Rear Admiral Sims, with the knowledge and approval, and perhaps, with the support of the Rear Admiral, to secure for him the honor of Admiral.

This distinguished position of Admiral of our navy has heretofore been held in permanent rank only by Farragut, Porter and Dewey. In 1916, the Congress provided for four admirals and three vice-admirals, but these are held only temporarily by officers while in actual command of our fleets.

While the propaganda who are laboring for Admiral Sims' elevation admit in their letters that Sims was never in actual contact with the enemy, they seem to think that some qualifications of his entitle him to this elevation.

Inasmuch as the only two occasions upon which Rear Admiral Sims came conspicuously before the American people were occasions on which he was reprimanded for public addresses in London which displayed humiliating subservience to Great Britain, the people of the United States will probably not be continued on Page 3, Column 1.

Man on Trial Killed By Girl He Wronged

Waco, Tex., Feb. 24.—While a crowd looked on, C. S. Croft, on trial here, was shot and killed today by the girl whom he is alleged to have wronged.

The shooting occurred shortly after Miss Marie Matthews, seventeen years old, the complaining witness, had taken the stand to tell her story.

Almost hysterical she drew an automatic pistol and shot Croft three times. He fell from his chair dead.

It was Croft's second trial for the alleged crime. At the first trial he was convicted and sentenced to "life" imprisonment, but the conviction was reversed by the Criminal Appeals Court and a new trial granted.

MILDEN PEOPLE POISONED BY TURKEYS

More Than a Score Are Ill as Result of Dinner Given by Church Society

More than a score of the residents of the fashionable Belmont Hill district, Malden, are suffering from poisoning today, the result of a turkey dinner given by the Ladies Aid Society of the Robinson Methodist Church, Washington's Birthday.

The most severely affected are the pastor of the church, Rev. Albert D. Tyler, his wife and two daughters, Miss Olive Tyler and Miss Marian Tyler. They are all confined to their rooms at home.

Dr. C. H. Staples suffered a mild attack yesterday, but was better today. The other victims are all on the road to recovery, their cases being described as mild.

The church bought several large turkeys for the dinner, which was the twenty-fifth annual event of the kind. The birds were turned over to members of the Ladies Aid Society to be cooked at the home kitchen.

CLASH ON REPLY TO BRITISH

Demand for Details of Artistic Agreement Stirs Daily Cabinet

Belfast, Feb. 24.—Three Unionist members were wounded today when a police lorry was bombed in Lurgan.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL, International News Service Staff Writer.

Dublin, Feb. 24.—At a meeting of the Daily Cabinet this afternoon Michael Collins opposed explanation of the agreement reached between British forces in the Ard Fheis (Sinn Féin) organization.

Collins contended that the British government has no right to insist in agreements between Irishmen. On the other hand, Arthur Griffith is understood to be in favor of the British government's explanation.

Conflicting reports were current here regarding the movement of British troops. From Sinn Féin sources it was stated that the withdrawal of British soldiers was suspended for the present time, but this was officially denied in London. It was reported at this time that no more troops would be evacuated until Monday, when they chartered assistance to transport soldiers to England.

A message from Belfast as of yesterday indicated by Sinn Féin sources that recent border raids had been planned.

British Would Yield To Irish in Delay of Poll.

By International News Service.

London, Feb. 24.—British officials declared today that the government would not oppose postponement of a general election in Ireland if it was promised a chance to bring about unity between Ulster provinces and the Irish Free State.

This is a change of attitude as of late Downing street, as one of the provisions of the Irish Free State, now before Parliament, was that Irish elections should take place immediately the choosing a constituent assembly to take the place of the Irish Parliament.

Irish signs of the Anglo-Irish treaty, who have been summoned here for a conference with the Cabinet, will be asked for a clear understanding of the agreement reached by hostile factions in the Ard Fheis earlier in its work.

It is a point of view that is consistent with the results of the meeting here. The British office this afternoon declared that withdrawal of British troops from Ireland had been suspended. It was pointed out that there may be a change of mind on this point.

TAX PLAN FOR BOBOS LAID BEFORE G.O.P.

System Based on Canada's Is Presented to Republican Committee Members

By International News Service.

Washington, Feb. 24.—A new tax plan designed to raise the money necessary for the soldier bonus was laid before the full Republican membership of the House Ways and Means Committee this afternoon by the tax subcommittee.

The plan is based on the Canadian manufacturers' tax system, with specific commodities named, and it is understood the rate is to be about 1 per cent.

The plan has been only tentatively agreed to, and some members of the subcommittee reserved the right to oppose it. It was agreed, however, to lay the plan before the full House.

TRAGEDY CAUSED BY LOVE QUARREL

Inability of Jeffers to Dance Said to Have Led Up to Tragic

Kingston E. Jeffers of West Medway, who shot and killed Perry C. Russell, father of the girl who had rejected his suit, wounded the girl four times and then shot himself, died today in the Framingham Hospital, where he was taken after the tragedy.

The girl, Miss Grace Russell, nineteen-year-old music student, is recovering.

The shooting took place on a stalled train at the Chittenden station, Millis.

Russell was about seven without warning from behind, and when the girl jumped forward, the train left her behind, firing into her body. As she fell in front of the locomotive the crowd man leaped upon her, kicking her with both feet.

The trouble which led up to the shooting arose out of a quarrel between the girl and her lover, who was the latter's inability to dance.

Four months ago, after the young man had been quarreling with his sister for some time, the girl told him that she no longer wanted his company and had decided to leave him.

Jeffers is reported to have lost his temper and to have struck the girl over the arms, knocking off a wrist watch she was wearing.

WARNED JACKPINE

That night she told her father and brother, Paul Russell, of the unpleasant scene and they both warned Jeffers.

NAVY YARD CUTS ARE PUT UP TO CONGRESS

Only 4 of 9 Bases to Survive If
Naval Appropriations Bill
Slash Is Made

By International News Service.
Washington, Feb. 24.—The congressional axe now hanging over army and navy appropriations is threatening the existence of more than half of the navy yards of the country, it was said today by naval officials.

Should the axe fall on naval appropriations as heavily as some congressional leaders are threatening, the Navy Department, it is said, will be forced virtually to close all but the few absolutely vital establishments.

The slash in personnel at the yards will range around 75 per cent, of the complement of each yard affected. It is understood. This will mean even more thousands of workers suspended from employment than under the recent order stopping construction.

Should the already well-defined plan of cutting the navy appropriation of $400,000,000 in half materialize, only four of the existing nine yards will be retained in commission.

The others will be forced gradually to suspend activity. The yards likely to be retained are the so-called "strategic" establishments, located at Brooklyn and Norfolk, on the Atlantic, and Mare Island and Puget Sound on the Pacific coast. Both Pacific yards are necessary, it is stated, because the Mare Island base is not sufficient in itself to care for the powerful fleet now stationed in that region.

The yards likely to suffer are Portsmouth, where a total of 2,132 civilian workers are employed; Norfolk, Boston, with 2,813 workers; Philadelphia, 4,185 workers; Washington, 6,115 workers; and Charleston, 1,347 workers. These complements are already reduced and at each of the yards which may be affected, deep cuts will occur, according to present estimates.

The Navy Department takes the position that it cannot be responsible for any such action, as the matter is now up to Congress.

Baltimore, N. C., Feb. 24.—Governor Morrison of North Carolina, in a vigorous message sent today to Acting Secretary of State Fletcher at Washington, declared North Carolina would not under any circumstances produce witnesses to testify at Hamilton, Ont., as to the charge of murder pending against Matthew Bullock, negro, whose extradition has been asked by the American government.

The Governor informed the Acting Secretary that Canada would not honor the extradition "in the regular way" and if the State Department could not convince the Canadian authorities that they should do so, "then I hope you will not hesitate to request North Carolina or any other self-respecting State of the Union in any way to honor a request from Canada."

BONUS BUREAU IS ORGANIZED TO PAY VETERANS

Disbursement Offices Will Be at Washington in Charge of Army Colonel

Washington, Feb. 23.—Anticipating an early passage of the bonus bill, the War Department has already organized an organization through which the two billion or more dollars to be distributed to the veterans wherever they may be located.

At the head of this organization is an army colonel who distinguished himself in France as adjutant general to General Pershing. This officer named such a high reputation over his military service that he was at once selected to head the organization that in the next future will assume the task of being paymaster to millions of former soldiers.

The War Department estimates that the administration cost of disbursing the bonus will be approximately $100,000 the first year, it is claimed that the organization will remain in existence several years, as a result of the proposed installment plan under which the bonus is to be paid.

4,000,000 MEN BENEFIT.

Approximately 4,000,000 men of the army, navy, and marine corps will benefit by the bonus. Of this number 1,000,000 are under the first plan of the bill, which provides that the bonus be paid in full to the veterans who served from April 6, 1917, and before September 12, 1918. The remaining 3,000,000 are under the second plan, which provides that the bonus be paid in installments over a period of five years.

Under the provisions of the bill each veteran will be able to receive $10,000 or more, depending on the length of his service and the date of his discharge.

The sum of $2,700,000,000 is the amount estimated by the War Department to be necessary to cover the bonus payments.

With reference to the adjusted service pay to be paid to soldiers, the bill provides that the adjusted service pay shall be made in installments beginning January 1, 1922, as follows:

(1) If the total amount payable is $100 or over, in ten equal quarterly installments; (2) if the total amount payable is less than $100, in quarterly installments of $10, except that any installment necessary to complete the payment may be less than $10.

PETITION TO CONGRESS For Action on Soldiers' Bonus With Sales Tax to Pay It

WE respectfully petition Congress to pass the soldiers' bonus act without further delay and also to levy a sales tax to obtain the money to pay the bonus, for the following reasons:

FIRST: Public opinion throughout the United States is undeniably in favor of the soldiers' bonus as shown by the numerous petitions in every State which a popular referendum has been held in. In Rhode Island 2 to 1; Wisconsin 3 to 1; Oregon 2 to 1; Washington 2 to 1; and so on.

SECOND: We believe that Congress if permitted to vote on the soldiers' bonus bill will favor it with great unanimity, regardless of party, then the popular majority by which the people in twenty-two States have already expressed its belief that the soldiers' bonus cannot and ought not to be defeated and that the longer it is postponed the greater the injustice.

THIRD: We believe the new tax scheme proposed by the Ways and Means Committee is only a little less objectionable than the soldiers' bonus bill. It is a small price to pay for a new three-cent-a-gallon tax on gasoline. Proponents of such taxes oppose any soldiers' bonus whatever and hope by making it with such new destructive and unpopular taxes to kill the proposition altogether.

FOURTH: If the soldiers' bonus is not only right, it is inevitable, and if the United States is not to be a land of slaves, France, Italy, Canada and Australia, which have already paid liberal soldiers' bonuses, then our payment is already long overdue, not as a debt (for our debt to the soldiers can never be paid), but as a just tribute to the valor and the sacrifice of the men who won the war.

FIFTH: The only question that remains is: By what system of taxation shall the money be raised? Not by bond issue, because it is against the traditional policy of the United States to increase debt in time of peace. Not by any levying, unreasonable or destructive tax on individuals, business or industry, because we already have too many such taxes. A small general sales tax will raise more than enough to pay the soldiers' bonus. It will leave heavily on us as we. If the experience of Canada and our own Philippine Islands, where the sales tax is in operation, is repeated, the system will meet with such favor that it will be one of the approved methods of raising necessary revenue after the soldiers' bonus has been paid.

SOLDIER BONUS BILL VICTORY ASSURED

PROCEEDS CAREFULLY.

It was evident today that the committee is going to proceed slowly with the bill, because of the realization that one wrong step may jeopardize the program.

A survey of the Republican membership today revealed that about eighty members may be counted against the sales tax bonus measure. The Democrats are expected to offer united opposition to the tax and they number about 120. This makes a comfortable total of 200 members that may be counted against the tax, or just about half the membership of the House.

House Republican leaders do not seem to trust the fate of the bonus measure to go through a vote. They have been forced to try to bring the bill into such a parliamentary position that a vote against the bonus will be a vote against the House.

Chairman Fordney, however, is optimistic. He said: "The bill must certainly be passed. It will carry the sales tax and the House will approve whatever form of the sales tax the Ways and Means Committee decide upon."

MAJORITY OPPOSES DELAY.

"Opposition to the bonus and the sales tax is the method of defeating it," he said. "There will not be many Republicans against it, and many Democrats will vote for it." The Ways and Means Committee

When the People Reach Out, BEWARE!

King Louis XVI. of France Learned It Too Late

ONE single play has been seen by fifty millions of Americans. That play was the TWO ORPHANS, played in every country in the world but Siam.

A hundred million Americans need to see the story of a still greater play of real life, called THE FRENCH REVOLUTION. In looking back at that play of history, a tragedy of passion in which Kings were victims and men from the gutter their executioners, the intelligent man is warned and understands the events of to-day.

* * *

Beware of the people when it reaches out to grab what it hates. And let the people beware of ITSELF in that moment of hatred, triumph, intoxication and inevitable disaster.

When a nation is plunged into revolution, into a sea of blood, heads of men and women from the upper class fall by the thousands. Then leaders of the revolution themselves fall, THEIR necks pass under the guillotine blade.

Danton, giant in power, went first, then Robespierre, Carlyle's "green-eyed monster," dragged to the guillotine with jaw broken, blood running from his mouth, but defiant. Then Marat rose to rule, and Charlotte Corday killed him.

Then came Napoleon, seizing the people by the throat as they, the people, had seized fat, foolish King Louis. Napoleon marched them all over Europe to be shot on a hundred battlefields, or frozen in the snows of Russia. His day came, and he went to die on his lonely island in intense physical and mental agony.

FROM REVOLUTION, BLOODSHED AND TYRANNY ONLY SORROW CAN COME.

* * *

In his extraordinary picture production of the Two Orphans, which he calls "ORPHANS OF THE STORM," David W. Griffith makes YOU LIVE for two and a half hours in that horrible storm of blood, hatred and rebellion. The arrogant nobles, yesterday feasting, careless, debauches, to-day are hunted like rats. The people are transformed into a howling mob, the King and his wife are beheaded. Then the hour glass turns, and the people again are under the heel of power from above.

* * *

If an intelligent man could see himself drunk or angry, he would never be angry or drunk again. And intelligent people, seeing real revolution, living, hating and killing, as Mr. Griffith shows it in his marvelous picture of "ORPHANS OF THE STORM," would hate the suggestion of revolution even more intensely than they could hate tyranny or selfish exploitation. For when a whole people go mad, there is wisdom and safety nowhere.

"The Orphan Girl Kneeling Before the Tribunal of Bloody Justice That Knows No Justice."

Copyright, 1922, New York Evening Journal.

The beautiful, pathetic picture of the Two Orphans, the blind girl and her sister, separated and plunged into the horrible maelstrom of the French Revolution, the absolute living portrayal of that revolution with its great figures and horrible brutality, stamps upon the mind that which will never be forgotten by intelligent Americans. The horrible selfishness of the privileged classes, living tax free on misery below them, feasting, squandering, debauched and shameless at a time when there were thirty thousand professional beggars in Paris, and when the nobleman might see at the gate of his castle peasants lying dead, with grass that they had tried to eat sticking from their mouths—that is the picture of governing power gone mad. And the Griffith picture portrays it as no words could do.

* * *

With this wild setting of revolution for a background, the romance and story of the Two Orphans, tale of girlish beauty, devotion and pathos mixed in the stream of hatred, horror and cruelty, stands out with power that words cannot possibly describe.

To see this Griffith play of the Two Orphans, or "ORPHANS OF THE STORM," as he has chosen to call his finest production, is a duty, an education, and, in addition, it provides hours of most intense interest, excitement and delight.

The ablest actors and actresses, unlimited spending of money on a scale hitherto unthought of, plus the knowledge and genius of Griffith, the greatest picture-maker in the world, have produced this picture-story of the Two Orphans, "ORPHANS OF THE STORM." And you are urged to see it while it is still in Boston.

NURSE CLEARED IN ATTICHISON WILL CASE

"Friendly," Says Master, but Had No "Undue Influence"

Worcester, Feb. 24.—Mrs. Eleanor C. Maynard of Worcester, a nurse, did not influence the late George T. Attichison in making the post-mortem agreement by which his wife received a $10,000 settlement, in lieu of all her rights in the estate, according to a finding made by Assistant District Attorney Charles H. Rugg as master in a report filed in Supreme Court.

In this report the master found that the agreement was "not unfair, unjust, unreasonable or inequitable to Mrs. Ella M. Attichison," who brought a suit in equity to have the agreement set aside.

The conduct of Mrs. Maynard, the nurse who was employed in the Attichison household, and the head of the family were characterized as "friendly to indications," although no influence was shown.

The report added that Mrs. Maynard probably did not at all times conduct herself with the highest discretion, and that if her actions with Attichison had been presented in a connected story, she would not have prevailed.

The evidence in this case, the report stated, "is such as to raise a reasonable doubt as to whether the report was faithful to his marriage."

The Attichisons were married in November, 1917, when she was forty-eight years old and he about eighty years old. Mr. Attichison was for many years in the storage warehouse business in Worcester and was the inventor of the storage bin.

The master found that Mrs. Attichison had waited an unreasonable time to prosecute to set aside the agreement, and that the husband did not make a false representation regarding the value of the estate. He was reported to be worth about $20,000 at the time of his death.

Salem, Feb. 24.—As a result of a mistake in taking prisoners out of the dock at the Superior Court session at Lawrence, last week, Rose Hulse has been serving ten days of a three months' sentence on a charge of shoplifting in place of Josephine Legare, who paid the fine that was imposed on the Hulse woman and walked out of the dock. The authorities have found the Hulse woman and are now searching for Mrs. Legare.

FORTUNE SELDOM KNOCKS AT THE DOOR OF THE CHRONIC KICKER

CHAMPION TELLS OF OLD DAYS WHEN HE HAD TOUGH SLEDDING

By JACK DEMPSEY

It is interesting for me at times to permit my thoughts to go back to the days when I was having mighty tough sledding earning enough money to make both ends meet. When I came over to Boston from New York, with a drawing room at my disposal and a flock of trainers and waiting partners in my party, I told the boys about how I used to sleep in day coaches and such things as I hoped from one town to another to fill a ring engagement.

I shall never forget one of my train rides while going to a town in Maine back in 1915 for a bout with a fellow by the name of Joe Bonds. This rugged fighter was managed by Jack Kearns, who became my manager after he saw me battle his protégé, whom he had done considerable training on the Pacific Coast and in Australia.

Bonds got on the same train with me and some other fellows, and I knew who he was, as he had a suitcase with his name plastered all over it.

I didn't presume the other to be Bonds, so after we had done our usual routine, I pulled out some sandwiches I had with me. Joe looked at the sandwiches so longingly that I shared them with him.

Joe told me all about his ring career and of his time in the future. I talked about boxing, but never slipped back to him. I was the man who was going to battle. I finally asked him what his opponent was going to be. "Some egg," was his reply, as he passed with me, as he was the big time.

I ducked Joe as soon as we arrived at the station of the town where we were to box. I did not want anybody to see us together, for Joe had been claiming we were going to stage one of these things.

I kept out of Joe's sight for a couple of days. Then we happened to go to a saloon, which was operated by the man who was promoting the show.

TUFTS AGAINST NORTHEASTERN ON MARCH 7

Jumbo Track Team Members Recovering From Flu Out Ready for Duol Meet

The Tufts track team is booming along after a case of influenza. Owing to illness of four of its members, the relay team are unable to compete with Brown at Clark at the American Legion meet.

Tufts will meet Northeastern in a dual meet on March 7. Although the Boston boys will race their own track, most competitors are expected. Last winter was Tufts' first experience at the Y. M. C. A. meet, and the Jumbos are expected to put up a good score this year.

Several veterans are available. Woodcock, Lawler and others. Woodcock will enter the dash and 300-yard run. Lawler will run in the 440, Captain John Deberry, "Doc" Doherty, captain-elect of last Fall's cross-country team and Shumaker, who came in the distance.

Peckard, who came in the shot, will be a variety of weather in the 100 and 200 yards. He is shown prominently. Tufts' weakness in the jumps is expected to be made up by the hardy boys who have gone through the hardships of winter. The boys who reached the heights of success.

Finally the conversation drifted to the Williamsport bout which will be staged in New York next month. "I feel sure Williams will beat Norfolk," declared Mullin. "Norfolk has been working hard for this match and will strive for a knockout."

"It would be interesting if Williams should win by putting across the big punch," remarked Kearns. "Dempsey and myself would then begin looking up Williams' batting average."

Says You May Not Be a King, But a Collection Agency Can Present You at Court.

There is an old saying that "Every day brings new adventures," but the first of the month brings bills.

A rich fellow has "A. H. Hones," but a guy who owes money never has them.

Most of the big stores have silent salaried, but what we need is silent collectors.

You can always tell a collector, but you can't tell the man who files them in the waste basket.

And the janitor is the filing clerk. You can't say a man is crooked just because he doesn't pay his bills. You may have owed a firm a bill for twenty years and he hasn't beaten them out of it yet.

He's waiting—until he gets the money or until the collector dies.

And it looks as if death were going to win the race. People knock this guy, and yet he's kept one man in a job for twenty years.

The first of the month is handy for some people, but to most of us it's only the first of the month.

BILL BRENNAN IS WORKING OUT WITH NATE SIEGAL

By JACK CONWAY

Bill Brennan, who gave Jack Dempsey the only real tough battle of his fight career, is numbered among those who are assisting Nate Siegal in getting fit for his ten-round title battle with Eddie Shelvin, which will be staged under the direction of the Armory A. A. at Mechanics Building next Tuesday night.

Brennan has been at Diamond Hill, Rhode Island, for several weeks, as there is a possibility he may get another shot at Dempsey's crown, and he wants to be fit. Lou Flyn's son-in-law, inserted warrior was impressed by Siegal's stand-still style of mugging, and has worked out with him several times this week.

"Siegal shapes up as a fellow who wouldn't be afraid even of a beating," laughed Brennan after a workout with the big boy. "Nate sure does enjoy wrapping punches. One would think I was a flyweight the way he tears at me. It makes me feel good to work out with a kid who doesn't get stage fright when I get a punch go to his direction. I shall benefit from these workouts with Siegal, as he has plenty of speed and seems to be tireless."

Robby Dyer, New Bedford bantamweight, will have Johnny Sheppard of Woburn as an opponent in the feature bout of ten rounds at the Casino A. C. of Lynn next Monday night. Sheppard engaged in a couple of tough bouts with Fatty Owens at the Athletic Club and should make quite a few interesting for the hard hitting Dyer.

Jack Perry of Pittsburgh, who won over R. G. Loughlin at the National A. C. of Providence the other night, has been signed to meet Soldier Hart in the same club next Wednesday evening.

Jack O'Keefe, brother manager of the late Mike, was a caller at the office today.

HARVARD BASKETBALL TEAM PLAYS AGAINST TUFTS

Harvard will meet the fast Tufts basketball team this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Hemenway gymnasium. The Crimson will have Jerry Black and Roscoe Fitts back in their lineup, and the all around team play of the five should improve.

Tufts is expected to give Harvard a hard battle. Last year the Crimson won 33-25. Rounds is one of the Tufts dependables.

Canth All Stars of Cambridge, composed of high school and college boys, have a few open dates left and would like to arrange games with the Tufts team. All communications should be addressed to Daniel Atwater, manager, No. 41 Hudson street, Cambridge, or telephone University 1467-W.

On Saturday night, Waseley will oppose Tufts on the Tufts floor. Previous to the victory game the freshmen will battle the Bradford Dufferin School team of Fall River. The freshmen won at Fall River floor and hope to repeat.

At Lawrence Hall tomorrow night the Franklins and Wilsons will battle for the Championship of the Junior Department of the West End House. Nat Crook, Y. M. C. A. instructor, has been elected as referee. The Franklins have won fourteen consecutive victories this season.

The Boston Y. M. C. A. basketball team will play their final game away from home at the Malden Y. M. C. A. tomorrow.

The Boston Y. M. C. A. City Basketball League has the Barnum Company team for a leader. The American Club team is in second place and has an opportunity to tie up for the lead if it wins this week. The Greater Bazaar and Greater Bazaar are tied with two games won and four lost.

TECHNOLOGY CANDIDATES FOR CREWS NUMBER MORE THAN 125

More than 125 men answered the first call for Tech crew candidates at the first big mass meeting. Practice in the final form of the indoor season in various branches of sport presented many more from turning out, however.

The work was outlined by Manager Roscoe Smith and Captain McCurdy. Preliminary training in the form of workouts in the gym and on the track will start on Monday, which will continue until weather conditions will permit the men to go out on the river.

It is planned that the preliminary work should be of such an extensive character that there will be no unnecessary delay in getting the candidates in condition when they take to the water.

Several of the new candidates who have signed up for the crew include Dave Campbell, who heads the freshman list, balls from Exeter, where he was captain during his last year. He captured the freshman eight oar sold last November. To G. Harvey and G. K. Bonilla, both having four years experience with the West Long Boat Club, T. P. Leonard, for four years captain of the University Club, and J. L. W. in addition to the two regattas with crews on May 15 and September 15. It is also with the Union Boat Club, who were second in the whole club.

The meeting proposition has not been officially settled yet as it is not certain that the freshman will be under the M. T. A. banner.
